

A NOTE ON OUR BOOK REVIEW POLICY

All books solicited from publishers will be sent to selected individuals for review. JMB also accepts unsolicited reviews. Reviews should be absent of all titles except the name of the work reviewed, author of work reviewed, place of publication, publisher, date of latest publication, number of pages, and price. An example of a JMB review can be made available to serve as a stylesheet. JMB also publishes review essays traditionally called "Critical Notices": close-grained reviews of approximately 5,000 words that become genuine contributions to the secondary literature. For books in cognitive science, philosophy of mind, consciousness studies, the sociology of scientific knowledge and social philosophy, or if a potential reviewer would like to canvass the suitability of a target book, please contact Leslie Marsh, Ph.D., Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine, University of British Columbia Hospital, via email at leslie.marsh@ubc.ca. For all other books contact the Editor.

JMB is abstracted or indexed in: Cultures, Langues, Textes: La Revue de Sommaires; Current Contents (Social and Behavioral Sciences); EBSCOhost; EMBASE/Excerpta Medica; International Bibliography of Book Reviews; International Bibliography of Periodical Literature; Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts; Physics Abstracts; ProQuest; Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal; PsychINFO/Psychological Abstracts; Research Alert; Social Science Citation Index; Social Work Abstracts; Sociological Abstracts; The Philosopher's Index. The Journal of Mind and Behavior website is located at www.jmb-online.com